REPORT: ENGLISH LANGUAGE WEEK

English Language Week was Celebrated by the English Department at Little Flower Degree College to commemorate the Birthday of William Shakespeare from 16th to 23rd April 2024. It was a week-long celebration of the language's beauty and significance. From engaging competitions to cultural presentations, each day was filled with activities that highlighted different aspects of the English language. Students participated enthusiastically, showcasing their language skills, creativity, and cultural appreciation. The week served as a reminder of the importance of English in communication, literature, and global understanding, leaving a lasting impact on all participants.
