ROHINGYA REFUGEE CAMP

NAME OF THE ACTIVITY: Field Trip- Rohingya Refugee

CampDate: 18-09-2018

Location: Balapur

No of Participants: 55

The Department of Political Science organized an educational trip to the Refugee camp in Balapur, Hyderabad. The plight of the Rohingyas and their flight from Myanmar was an incident that shook the conscience of the entire world. India has always played host to millions of refugees from time immemorial.

The Department of BA wanted the students of political science to understand the pain and themisery of not having a country to call yours. I wanted the students to get a firsthandexperience of the refugee camps, and the condition they were living. When the students reached there it was a culture shock to them to see old people and small children living in unhygienic conditions. The Rohingyas arranged for a meeting in the hall and spoke about their pain and wanting to go back to their country.

When the students left the camp, they were filled with empathy for the refugees and understood how fortunate they were to have a country of their own as well as understood the feeling of being unwanted.
