Bracelets do not decorate a person, nor do necklaces glittering like the moon, nor bath, nor smearing the body with fragrance, nor flowers, nor decorated hair. Only that speech embellishes a person, which has been upheld with cultural refinement. Indeed, all ornaments decay Ornament of speech is always the real ornament. Following these words of ancient poets, the department of Sanskrit has conducted 10 days of online spoken Sanskrit Classes to develop communication skills. Classes were conducted from 4 June to 13-June-2020 at 12.45 PM to 2.00 PM. Interested persons of all age groups have enthusiastically participated in online classes to learn our ancient and precious language. Smt. Devaki, an expert trainer from Samskrita Bharati has taken over the classes and kept all her efforts to make the trainees grasp at least a few drops of the ocean (Sanskrit) within that short period. E-certificates were provided to the participants online.
